WATCHING MEXICAN OFFICIALS

Many Believe Huerta Will Resign After His Acts Have Been Ratified

CHAPULTEPEC RECEPTION

Attended by All Diplomats and President Huerta Applauds Playing of the Star Spangled Banner—Elaborate Affair.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Mexico City, Nov. 20.—It was regarded here today as entirely possible that Provisional President Huerta, after having, through the ratification of the new congress, relieved himself from the danger of being called to account for his acts by some future administration, might be brought to the point of self elimination through the efforts of the foreign powers supporting the United States government.

It was not generally expected today that Provisional President Huerta on the convening of the new Mexican congress at six o'clock this evening would encounter much of the obstructionist tactics which characterized the last congress as the new deputies were known to be in sympathy with his policies. On their meeting General Huerta was assumed would automatically forfeit the self-imposed powers which he has enjoyed since the dissolution of the two houses early last month. One of the first steps the new congress was expected to take was the ratification entirely of the chief executive's acts as dictator and that the two houses would be asked to do this was plainly indicated in his message to them.

The securing of this ratification of his acts is currently reported to have been one of the reasons why General Huerta so obstinately opposed the pressure brought to bear on him by the United States and other nations to withdraw and efface himself. The provisional president, it is said, by those believed to be in a position to know, to have been persuaded that he must resign and to have named Manuel Garza Aldape, former minister of the interior as the man he desired to succeed him when the instances of John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson, upon the abolition of the new congress caused him to change his attitude and renounce the idea of resigning.

Up to the moment of the last representations made to him by John Lind, the friends of the provisional president say he frequently evinced the most worthy to be head of the Mexican government and he appeared to look with some degree of equanimity on the idea of turning over the presidency to him.

The marked manner in which Provisional President Huerta displayed his cordiality toward Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, and the way in which he applauded the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" at yesterday's reception in Chapultepec castle, were the subjects of more comment today. Although the entire diplomatic corps was present General Huerta did not converse at length with any of the diplomats except Mr. O'Shaughnessy, with whom he spoke privately for a quarter of an hour. The provisional president appeared to be in high spirits while he was informing Mr. O'Shaughnessy of the substance of the message he was about to deliver to the new congress and telling him that he would send a copy to the American embassy in advance of its delivery.

At the same time Senora Huerta showed great cordiality in her reception of Mrs. O'Shaughnessy.

The reception was on a very elaborate scale and the rooms were profusely decorated with flowers. The refreshment bill alone amounted to $20,000.

Besides the diplomats, the high military officers, the leading civilian officials and their wives, nearly all the members of the new congress were present.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires declared this morning that he had received no further advice from the state department at Washington as to his future action.

Much interest is expressed among the general public as to the intentions of the United States government in face of the convening of the new congress.

One of the last acts of Provisional President Huerta as dictator before the new congress places a restriction on his power was an edict today making a sweeping increase in the international taxes of Mexico.

The stamp tax which requires a revenue stamp on checks, receipts, contracts and all documents of a public nature, was doubled. The tax on tobacco, alcohol and crude petroleum was heavily increased.

While the authorities here are reticent as were the principals, re-

Plan to Create Office of State Architect in the Very Near Future

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Nov. 20.—An addition to the family of state officials may be made within the next year or two, if plans now being made by several departments for recommending the creation of the office of state architect, yet as far as the legislation degree. The state agricultural commission has been urging a state architect for the remodeling of several structures in the state fair grounds, and the board of administration is said to have special need of an architect. Auditor Donahy has investigated the amount paid by the state to independent architects during the past few years and it is thought he will recommend the creation of this office in his annual report to the governor. Mr. Donahy declares the state could have saved thousands of dollars by having one architect do its work instead of allowing each department to hire its own whenever it did any building or remodeling.

Salvation Army Head Willing to Amalgamate With the Volunteers

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, Nov. 20.—General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army said today that he was willing to amalgamate with the Volunteers of America but he did not think his brother, Ballington Booth, commander of the rival organization desired such amalgamation. General Ballington Booth was out of the city today and his secretary said he knew of no arrangement for the meeting of the two brothers who have not seen each other since they were estranged seventeen years ago.

"I have written to my brother," said Bramwell Booth, "and hope to meet him. I am going to meet him as my brother and I hope my friend. We have had some difficulties in the past, but the past is the past." The Salvation Army chief did not think that the existence of two organizations such as his own and the Volunteers of America doing practically the same kind of work was a dissipation of power. "Christianity," he said, "has been helped as much as hindered by having its message pressed upon the people from different sides."

BIG ADVANCE IN PRICES OF FOOD STUFFS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Nov. 20.—Retail prices of food were higher August 15 than they had been at any other time during the last 23 years, according to the figures of the bureau of labor statistics issued today. Retail prices for the principal articles of food in forty important industrial cities, gathered and compiled by experts show that during the year 12 of the 15 articles advanced in price while only three declined. Comparison of retail prices on August 15, 1913, with prices on the same date in 1912, shows potatoes advanced 20.6 per cent; pork 18.8 per cent; smoked ham 17.6 per cent; eggs 12.6 per cent; round steak 11.5 per cent; sirloin steak 10.2 per cent; pork chops 9.3 per cent; hens 8.7 per cent; lamb 8.1 per cent; rib roast 7.9 per cent; butter 5.7 per cent; milk 2.7 per cent. Sugar declined 7.9 per cent; wheat flour 5.5 per cent; and corn meal 2.7 per cent.

Compared with average prices for the 10-year period, 1890 to 1899, every article for which prices were noted, with the exception of sugar, advanced. Bacon advanced 139.0 per cent; pork chops 124.5 per cent; round steak 108.4 per cent; smoked 92.2 per cent; sirloin steak 79.3 per cent; rib roast 76.5 per cent; potatoes 75.2 per cent; hens 73.2 per cent; lamb 69.8 per cent; eggs 64.4 per cent; corn meal 63.0 per cent; butter 41.9 per cent and milk 28.8 per cent. Sugar declined 2.3 per cent.

When the price of each of the 15 articles of food is weighted according to average consumption in workmen's families, retail prices on August 15, 1913, were 66.1 per cent above the average price for the 10-year period, 1890 to 1899; 8.9 per cent above the price on August 15, 1912 and 14.9 per cent above the price on August 15, 1911.

"DREAM OF EMPIRE" AIDED ROAD TOWARD THE RECEIVERSHIP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) St. Louis, Nov. 20.—The story of how the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad was aided toward a receivership by the "dream of empire" of its chief executive, by the purchasing of "feeder" lines from syndicates in which "Frisco" officers were at the same time buyers and sellers and by general extravagance at the expense of the stockholders, was resumed here when the interstate commerce commission opened the third day of its hearing.

The first man to take the witness stand was J. D. O'Keefe, of New Orleans, receiver for the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico railroad, one of the "Frisco" subsidiary lines. He took up the story of the financial burdens and physical deficiencies he discovered in the road when he became one of the receivers. Examiner Brown said he hoped to end the hearing and the months of investigation today. The report then will be submitted to congress where the order for the investigation originated.

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATIONS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Nov. 20.—President Wilson today made three nominations: ambassador to Russia, Henry R. Pindell of Peoria, Ills. Secretary of the embassy at Madrid, Fred Morris Dearing, of Missouri.

FARM HANDS MURDER TAX COLLECTOR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Media, Pa., Nov. 20.—Two farm hands, arrested yesterday on suspicion of knowing something about the disappearance of S. Lewis Pinkerton, tax collector of Edgemont township, near here, confessed today that they had murdered him and buried his body, according to the Delaware county police. The two prisoners, Roland S. Pennington and George Marsh, of Glenn Mills, Pa., were taken in an automobile to the woods where they said the body was hidden and with the aid of a lantern the police found it in a hole covered by the men. They said they attacked Pinkerton for the purpose of robbing him.

COMMITTEE WILL NOT RECOMMEND A BARGE CANAL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Nov. 20.—A barge canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio river through the western part of the state will cost $27,000,000 and this is more than the state can afford to spend for such a project, in the opinion of Senator W. A. Weygant, chairman of the joint legislative committee which is formulating a canal policy for the state. Although members of the committee would not disclose the contents of their tentative draft of a report completed today, they declared they would not recommend a barge canal. The committee adjourned today and will convene again early next month to make a final draft of the report. Members of the committee expressed the opinion that if a barge canal was built along the route of the old Miami-Erie canal, people in the eastern part of the state would demand another there.

CALIFORNIA REPUBLICANS TO ORGANIZE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) San Francisco, Nov. 20.—California Republicans to the number of about 100 at a meeting here yesterday decided to proceed with the formation of a Republican organization throughout the state.

Some such move was considered necessary because of the capture before the last national elections of the Republican machinery by members of the Progressive party. The legality of this proceeding was upheld by the supreme court of California and since then the Republican party has had no official organization at all.

A committee of 15 was appointed to undertake the work.

MILL OPERATIVES ASK FOR INCREASE OF 12½ PER CENT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Fall River, Mass., Nov. 20.—A letter from the textile council demanding a general wage increase of 12½ per cent, for the cotton mill operatives was received today by the Manufacturers' Association.

There are about 25 corporations and 100 mills affiliated with the Manufacturers' Association. The proposed increase would affect 30,000 operatives.

Union officials say that the question of taking a strike vote depends upon the action of the manufacturers.

FIGHT FOR RIGHTS OF THE STATES

To Make Their Own Policies of Conservation Leads to Open Breach

CONSERVATION CONGRESS

In Session at Washington Declares for Strict Federal Control of Water Power Grants—Arkansas Delegates Withdraw.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Nov. 20.—States' rights conservationists today openly declared war on the national conservation congress. Defeated in the convention yesterday in their campaign for a curtailment of the federal government's power over national resources, the Arkansas delegations met today to effect another organization.

None of the leaders committed to strong federal control of forests streams would discuss the breach, which more pacific members hoped eventually would be healed. This the withdrawing element announced was impossible, declaring the breach to be the culmination of their fight for the rights of the states to make their own policies as to conservation without dictation from the national government.

"We were appointed by our governor," said Colonel Walter Power of the Arkansas delegation, "and we insist upon the abolition of the forest reserve. We think also that the state water power should be preserved by the state."

Victory for the advocacy of strict federal control of water power grants was practically assured today in the national conservation congress when the resolutions committee determined that the congress yesterday had taken the water power question out of its hands. The majority and minority reports of the water power committee, the latter authored by Gifford Pinchot and former Secretary of War Stimson now will be returned to the convention for final disposition.

The vote by states yesterday in the preliminary report caused champions of federalism as opposed to state control to express confidence that the Pinchot report would be adopted. A threatened break in the membership of the congress was averted when the resolutions committee accepted two resolutions from Dudley C. Wooten, Washington state, one of the leaders in the states' rights movement. One resolution would direct that the national conservation congress at its next convention provide for an equal division of time for waterway and forestry conservation. Another would urge the organization of state conservation congresses to co-operate with the national congress.

"I understand," said Mr. Wooten, "that some of the Arkansas delegates have left the convention but we have not and do not intend to admit that we are in the minority but that our resolutions will be accepted by the convention."

Secretary Lane addressing the congress, urged government ownership of railroads in Alaska and predicted wonderful development there.

"Instead of giving land grants in Alaska to railroad companies to build the railroads," said Secretary Lane, "the government ought to build the railroads, and we as the government should take the land grant to ourselves."

PROGRESSIVES WILL NAME A STATE TICKET

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Topeka, Kan., Nov. 20.—The Progressive party in Kansas will put out a state ticket in the 1914 campaign, independent of all other parties according to statements of leaders who are here to attend a statewide progressive conference this afternoon.

William Allen White, national progressive campaign chairman for Kansas said talk of harmony with the Republican party was without foundation.

Among the leaders who arrived early was former Governor Stubbs. A number of women will attend the gathering.

COUNTY CLERKS HAD RIGHT TO MAKE CONTRACT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Nov. 20.—John F. Hertline and Jerome J. Stoll, former clerks of courts in Erie county, will not have to reimburse the county treasury for contracts which they made with county commissioners for re-arranging court papers, according to an opinion given to the state bureau of accounting by Attorney General Hogan. The opinion holds that they had a right to make these contracts.

Tammany "Bagman" Pleads Not Guilty to Charge of Holding Up State Contractors

New York, Nov. 20.—Everett Fowler, a lawyer of Kingston, a small city on the Hudson River above New York, the "bagman" of Charles F. Murphy, boss of Tammany Hall, has been indicted by a grand jury in New York county on the charge of extortion and has pleaded not guilty. There were reports before his appearance that he would decide to tell the district attorney all he knew.

New York state is expending many millions on the construction of state roads. Contractor Hull had a small contract, requiring the expenditure of about $25,000. Fowler, acting for Tammany or Murphy, told him that he was expected to put $250, it is charged by District Attorney Whitman. He did so, making the check out to the chairman of the Democratic state committee.

It is currently reported in New York that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been taken by agents of Tammany Hall from these contractors, most of it on the plea that it was for political committees. Then there were contractors on the Erie Canal, which for many years has been in course of reconstruction at the cost of $101,000,000. Beyond this New York city is building a system of waterworks, which, when completed, will cost more than $175,000,000. It is reported the contractors on these works have been held up and that very little of the money went into the hands of campaign managers.

Claims Independent Telephone Companies Purchased by A. T. & T. Still Operated as Independents

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Chicago, Nov. 20.—Five independent telephone companies which he said had been purchased by the American Telephone and Telegraph company and thereafter operated ostensibly as still independent, were named today by W. S. Vivian of Grand Rapids, Michigan, secretary of the Independent Telephone Association, testifying in the hearings here in the government's anti-trust suit against the American company. "The United States Telephone of Cleveland, Ohio, the Columbus Citizens Telephone company of Columbus, O., the new long distance telephone company of Indianapolis, and the Kansas City Long Distance Telephone company were absorbed by the American company," said Mr. Vivian. "The purchase of the Kansas City company has been made public. The companies were secretly purchased and are ostensibly competing with the trust.

Former Judge E. S. Pillsbury of San Francisco, representing the defendants, indicated that he would charge the independent companies organization with being in restraint of competition contrary to the Sherman act. Mr. Vivian said the independent organizations drew a line between "good" independents and "bad" ones. "Good independents," he said, "purchase their equipment of independent manufacturers and support each other. The independent manufacturers make the existence of independent companies possible."

Mr. Vivian declared that under some circumstances an independent might purchase equipment from the Western Electric company and remain in good standing.

AFTER ONE WEEK OF MARRIED LIFE COUPLE PARTED

"I don't love you enough to live with you, so you may go your way and I'm going mine. I wish you good luck and happiness. I'm not worthy of your love."

These words were part of the story of a two-year acquaintance, and one week of married life, which was told to Judge Robbins Hunter in probate court Thursday afternoon by William R. Donahue of Newark. The above were some of the expressions embodied in the far-odd note said to have been left by his wife, Madeline, when she deserted him, August 1, just nine days after they had taken their marriage vows.

Mrs. Donahue is said to be living in Columbus, and Judge Hunter took the case under advisement, announcing that he would communicate with her before giving a decision. Attorney S. L. James represents the plaintiff.

The seriously injured passenger is T. A. Lloyd, who is not expected to live. His home address is not known here. The engine and express cars of both trains were derailed. An investigation has been ordered.

Danvoodie, an automobile salesman of Dayton, O., was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs, and to serve 20 days in the Columbus workhouse. HUERTA'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Says Government Has Been Making Efforts to Reinstating Supremacy of Peace

LATE REPRESENTATIVES

Come in for Scoring—Refers to Anti-Patriotic Purposes—Modestly Admits He Was Not Lacking in Foresight in Caring for Them.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Mexico City, Nov. 20.—Mexican flags were hoisted over all the public buildings in the Federal capital at 6 o'clock this morning and arrangements were made for the firing of the usual presidential salute at the hour fixed for the convening of the new congress.

The congress held a short preliminary session before the arrival of Huerta. Speaker Tamariz, formerly minister of public instruction, formally declared open the "second period of the 26th Mexican congress."

Senor Tamariz is the Catholic deputy whose nomination as minister of public instruction by Huerta was opposed by the Liberal party in the last congress. This opposition was cited by Huerta in his previous defense of his action in dissolving congress as one of the contributory causes to the step he had taken. Tamariz's selection as speaker is regarded as a further rebuke to the deputies of the old congress imprisoned by Huerta.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Nov. 20.—Huerta's message which he will read tonight in person to the Mexican congress in part is as follows:

"The country is resuming its course under the straight and inflexible provisions of the fundamental chart of the republic and this within such a peremptory time necessarily sets in relief before persons not actuated by passion the indisputable good faith and the unexcelled good will with which the government of the nation has been making efforts to reinstate the supremacy of peace and the law in the midst of conditions which without false modesty are of the character sufficient to discourage the strongest decision if such is not supported by a great faith in the law, in justice and in the welfare of the country."

"The embodiment of our political structure having as a basis a perfect equilibrium between the three powers by means of which the people exercise its sovereignty. It can be easily understood to what extent of difficulty we could be dragged by the least interruption or alteration of this equilibrium. The framers of the constitution, understanding this to be the case, marked for each power the province of their proper and legitimate action in order that by remaining invariably between the lines marked for each of them perfect harmony of the whole would be preserved. This situation, the gravity of which cannot escape the wisdom of the representatives I am addressing, appeared before the country and the government under my direction since the last days of September and its character was so intense and alarming from the beginning that the course of events could easily be forecast.

"I refer to the attitude which is perhaps fresh in the memory of all the Mexicans, principally of the house of representatives, which, in front of the other two powers, but preferably against the executive, whose action, so urgently and decisively needed at this moment, the aforesaid assembly endeavored to prevent and defraud systematically, there being nothing to dissuade its anti-patriotic purposes, notwithstanding that the executive meant to place in danger the life of the country itself.

"The executive was not lacking in the foresight mentioned above, but rather understanding at once the results of the rule of action adopted by the house all care was taken to avoid conflicts and to preserve a perfect intelligence with the legislative power, considering that all the efforts of the government would be impracticable without it making allowances contrary to its right and prerogatives on more than one occasion and even losing repeatedly tentative effort to obtain closer relations between the two powers, which every day become more difficult, the house on account of the assemblage of certain elements, became a focus of insurrection, an agency of the rebels in our northern frontiers who have devoted their efforts to slaughter and pillage and which is still to be regretted to the work of bleeding their fatherland so that when it may be

Board of Trade.

As our Board of Trade is about to reorganize on a firmer foundation, it is hoped it would be well for our people to look back and see where we have come from.

I came to Newark in 1875. At that time it had about 7,500 population, and was only a good big town. West Church street ended at Sixth street.
Granville road had but a few houses.
Mt. Vernon road, now Fourth had a few. Hudson avenue ended at Wyoming street. West Main at the creek. A few houses on Union street, then known as Lockport. East Main street ended at Cedar street. No houses on east side of Cedar street, and but very few on west side of that street. Where the Mill street school now stands was a grove, in which we had picnics and political meetings.

And what of our industries then?
The B. and O. shops employed more men than all the others. We had Schneider & McNamar on Third street.
The Blandys, now the Brewery, Shields, King & Co., a small glass plant. Moser made a few stoves in the East End, and that was about the total. And contrast with the city now—200,000 population and growing,
and industries in all parts of the city.
And to what can we attribute this great growth? Simply the location of industries here, giving employment to men and women. That is all that makes any town grow.

Now, while I do not say that our Board of Trade has done all this for the city, it is true it has helped almost every industry we have, wading around in the mud, selling town lots,

and helping in one way and another.
We have had mistakes, of course, but the work, on a whole, has been good and deserves your support.

GOOD SUGGESTION TO NEWARK PEOPLE

It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-Lax, drains from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and acts on BOTH the upper and lower bowel so thoroughly that ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IM-MEDIATELY. We are mighty glad we are Newark agents for Adler-Lax. R. P. Collins, druggist, 27 Hud-

INDIANS WROUGHT TO STATE OF FRENZY BY MEDICINE MEN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Farmington, N. M., Nov. 20.—The two renegade Navajo Indians encamped on Beautiful Mountain, 25 miles southwest of the Shinarump Agency, sang war songs and danced around council fires all night, while sentinel stood watch at the many signal fires which fringed the northeastern side of the mesa. At Ship-rock extra precaution has been taken against the surprise of a night attack by followers of Chief Be Shu She who has been wrought almost to a state of frenzy by their medicine men.
W. T. Shelton, Indian agent and his Indian police, who are still faithful, today began preparations to renew overtures to the Aborigines.
Traders and settlers on the reservations have become frightened and have applied to Agent Shelton for protection.
The other Indians of the reservation, more than 3,000, have given no intimation as to where their sympathies lie. It is upon the coming of troops and General Hugh L. Scott that the agency officials and the settlers base their hopes that bloodshed may be averted.

MR. FULTON BUYS FINE CATTLE HERD

W. D. Fulton, Jr., has purchased the entire herd of short horn cattle and good will of the business of John Richards, three miles west of Newark and has removed them to his farm known as Dutch Cross, near Croton, O. The herd consists of 35 head and is headed by Roan
Archer, son of Ceremonious Archer, grand champion Chicago International Exposition and sold for $5,000. The herd of cows is headed by the following family: Red Lady, Missie Walrus and Rose of Sharon.
Mr. Fulton is to be congratulated on securing this famous herd of cattle and the farmers of Licking county will be glad to know that this herd is to stay within its borders as Mr. Richards and his father before him have a state-wide reputation as short horn breeders. Mr. Fulton will take up the breeding of cattle where Mr. Richards left off and will try to improve the herd. The Advocate wishes him success in his efforts to improve the stock of Licking county.

Sure Thing Men Who Have Found
Toledo a Haven of Rest to Get Marching Orders.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Toledo, Nov. 20.—Safeblowers, burglars, robbers, pickpockets and others of the criminal class who have made Toledo their headquarters must clear out, and the present police force is to boss the job. These were the statements made by Mayor-elect Keller.

"This city now bears the unenviable reputation of being a harboring place for crooks," said the mayor-elect. "I intend to have thorough clean-up of the town, so that it may be a safe place in which to live and that hereafter our police department will not have to bear the stigma of being charged with affording protection to lawbreakers. That condition is known to exist now in neighboring counties, officers from which, I am told, do not ask Toledo's assistance in running down men wanted for violation of law outside the city. That constitutes a blight upon our city's name."

The mayor-elect was explicit in his statement, though, that the present police force will be required to do the job. "I have no fault to find with the rank and file of the department," said Mr. Keller. The fact is,
I think the majority of the men in the ranks are good officers, and I have no intention of disturbing them. Whatever may have been their attitude toward me before the election does not matter at all. I see no reason why men in the ranks should be nervous about holding their positions. Politics will not enter into these departments of the city service."

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish;
clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and mistery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys, and thus to them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone;
makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

CAN EVADE GAME LAWS THROUGH PARCELS POST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Nov. 20.—Evasion of the game laws through the agency of the parcels post now is possible, for Postmaster-General Burleson today replied to the interrogations of indignant officials of several states that congress had placed no restrictions on the department as to accepting game.
This condition, the state game wardens fear, will nullify in great measure the state laws framed for the protection of wild life.

Postmaster Burleson points out that under the law, the postoffice department could not discriminate the acceptance of packages that conformed with the department's regulations.
Postmasters therefore, were compelled, he said, to accept game for shipment when the regulations were observed.

New York, Nov. 20.—Misses Hes-sie Lee, Irene Fleming and Katharine Schoper, all of Newark, Ohio, left New York this morning on their way home after a delightful trip to Bermuda. When seen at their hotel the young women admitted that the homeward voyage was a trifle rough, but their seasickness did not seriously interfere with their pleasure. They were guests of the Orpheum Theatre of Newark on the trip to Bermuda.

Mr. A. R. Lindorf, who has been here with his partner, Mr. Meyer, buying goods will return to Newark tonight.

MISS TURNER TELLS STORY OF ASSAULT TO COURT AND JURY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 20.—Indications today were that the trial of E. Graham Wilson, a wealthy farmer charged with assault by Miss Kate Turner, Mrs. Wilson's guest, would be concluded tomorrow.

Miss Turner told her story today for cross examination.

Heavily veiled, Miss Turner related her story of the alleged attack in tones so low that only the court, the lawyers and the jury could hear her testimony. She said that Wilson, who had been attending a horse show, returned home the morning of June 6, and after breakfast invited her to accompany him to a remote part of his farm to look over some blooded cattle. When she arrived at the place, he forced her out of a buggy. She returned with Wilson to the house and later went to her home where she took her mother into her confidence. Dr. Wilson's arrest followed. Penalty for the crime on conviction, is death.

Dan Alsop, harness manufacturer of West Church street, writes of the splendid hunting he has found near Penfield, Clearfield county Pennsylvania. He is one of a party of five enjoying the hunting in that vicinity and a card received by The Advocate states that the first day's trip netted the party 100 rabbits, 15 pheasants, 10 quail, two jack rabbits and one deer. He says the game is very plentiful in that locality.

MISS WILSON HAS THAT $2,000 GIFT; DIAMOND PENDANT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Nov. 20.—Miss Jessie Wilson, the white house bride elect, received her $2,000 present from the house today. The sparkling diamond pendant, resting in a satin-lined jewel box with a tiny key dangling from its heart-shaped lock, was taken to the white house
by a member of the Washington jewelry firm which has been preparing the gift.

The sentiment inscribed upon parchment paper accompanying the present, read:

"The representatives of the people in congress send this gift to Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, with their sincerest and best wishes, as an evidence of the tender interest and hearty good will of all the people, on the happy occasion of her marriage to Mr. Francis Bowes Sayre, November twenty-fifth, nineteen hundred and thirteen."

Secretary and Mrs. Bryan's gift were among those received and it will be uncanceled today. The present consists of an inlaid mahogany tea table and chair. Among the other gifts were a dozen silver plates from Andrew and Mrs. Carnegie and a handsome silver bowl from the Spanish minister and Mrs. Ryan.

Miss Margaret Wilson, it was learned today, has taken personal charge of the musical program at the wedding celebration. In addition to music by the full marine band a choir of boys will sing during the ceremony. A compliment will be paid the bridegroom by the rendition of several of the compositions of his cousin, the late Ethelbert Nevin.

Thanksgiving Day Reunions

To save the finer spirit of the old Thanksgiving day, something more than a plump turkey and accompanying dainties is required. The real charm lies in family reunions. This is difficult where one brother is in California, a sister in Florida, an uncle in Vermont and the cousins scattered all over.

In the old days when all the folks used to settle down within a carriage drive of the old fireside home, there were youngsters enough to fill the house with roaring merriment. A clan spirit of family loyalty united all hearts.

Modern life has scattered the old families to the winds of heaven. The Thanksgiving feast can rarely be a general assembly of all branches of the family tree. But it still serves to bring together friends from a distance.

The modern Thanksgiving is less uproarious. But the meeting of long separated kindred may give the day a deeper sentiment than in the old times when reunions were easy and frequent.

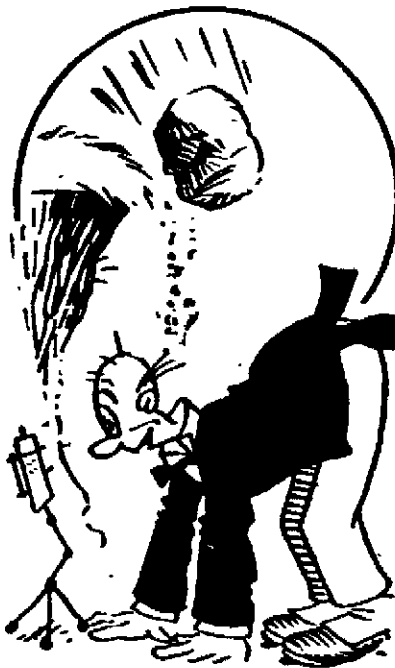

Canada was just beginning the struggle for responsible government. The era of railroad building had not yet set in. The West, now a rich grainy supporting populous cities, was the habitation of the Indian and the buffalo, considered worthless for any purpose except hunting and trapping. The discovery of gold in British Columbia, which sent the California Argonauts rushing northward, was still in the future. Canada slept, and scarcely dreamed of her glorious opportunities.

The future Premier and Liberal leader was educated at McGill University and studied law with the late Hon. R. Laflamme, Q. C. Soon after he was called to the bar the Dominion of Canada was formed, and in 1871 he began his public career as a member of the Quebec Provincial Assembly. Three years later the young French-Canadian was elected to the Federal Assembly, where he soon became known as "Silver-tongued Laurier." He became a truly national figure in 1877, when he was given the portfolio of Minister of Public Revenue in the Mackenzie government. In the general elections of 1878, when the Mackenzie ministry fell and Sir John Macdonald was returned to power, Laurier was defeated, but was immediately afterwards elected for Quebec East. In 1891, on the retirement of Mr. Blake, he assumed the Liberal leadership which he has ever since retained. In 1896 his party was successful at the polls, and Mr. Laurier became the first French-Canadian Prime Minister of Canada. He was knighted the following year, and continued as Premier until his party was defeated, on the reciprocity issue in 1911.

Arthur Guiterman, who is said to be one of a very few 20th century poets who make a living out of poetry, was born in Vienna, Austria, forty-two years ago today. His parents were Americans, and the poet was educated in the public schools and the college of the City of New York. At the age of twenty he began to write ballads, lyric verse and short stories for newspapers and magazines, but for several years he derived his principal income from editorial work on the Woman's Home Companion, the Literary Digest and other periodicals. The first volume with his name on the title page bore the title of "Betel Nuts," and was published in 1907. This was followed by "The Guest Book," an edition of the "Rubaiyat," including "The Literal Omar," and "Orestes," in which he collaborated with Andre Tridon.

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the United States judge who imposed the famous $25,000 fine on the Standard Oil company, was born at Millville, O., forty-seven years ago today. Before his elevation to the bench he was a corporation lawyer in Chicago, and was attorney for the Grand Trunk, the Chicago and Eastern, and other railroads. When he donned the ermine he apparently forgot his former affiliations, and many great railway and industrial companies soon had cause to regret his elevation to the bench.

On Second Thought

The discovery of water on the brain is generally attributed to Dr. Josephus Slight, who, in the spring of 1875, put the rain in brain.

This is the 19th anniversary of the birth of Hannah Sporemeister, the first woman to receive a telegram. Mrs. Sporemeister, a nervous woman, died while opening it. The message was: "A long life and a merry one."

Eph Wiley's criticism of a noted actress who recently visited our town is that she is performing the acrobatic feat of sitting on her laurels.

The most annoying incident of travel is the idiot who wishes to point you to a hotel where you can stay for "half the price."

A lot of the .44 caliber talkers discharge a .22 caliber projectile.

After a young mother has discussed her baby she practically has exhausted the subjects for conversation in which she feels a personal interest.

Eph Wiley, whose uncle from the country is to visit him next week, has already made his plans for entertaining his relative. Eph is going to take him out and show him both of the ten cent stores.

When two elderly men engage in earnest conversation the subject is "business." When two young men engage in earnest conversation the subject is "girls."

Being "entertaining" probably is the hardest work, and possibly the most difficult.

A man's most vulnerable point is not his heel, as history indicates, but his self-esteem.

Once in a while there is a frank football coach who admits his team has a chance to win.

A hero is a man who hasn't been found out.

Human Procession

The Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the "silver-tongued" leader of Canadian Liberalism, will today pass the three-score-and-twelve milestone. It was in the little village of St. Lin, near Montreal, that the future Prime Minister of a Dominion yet unborn made his premiere on the stage of life seventy-two years ago today. His birth was almost coincident with the union of Upper and Lower Canada, the first step toward that confederation of the provinces which Wilfrid Laurier was destined for the role of political leader. When Sir Wilfrid was born

TEACH HAPPINESS

CLEVELAND MAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, O., Nov. 20.—William V. Backus, Cleveland attorney, who lived long in Mexico, told members of the Keep-well club, at the Y. W. C. A. last night that "harmonious vibration" was one way the United States could end Mexican trouble. His topic was "The Art of Happiness."

"Of course it would require a decade perhaps for the United States to end the trouble in Mexico by teaching persons to convey the element of happiness from one to the other," he said, "but it must happen ultimately."

Governor Leads in a Real Turkey Trot

Cuero, Texas, Nov. 20.—Governor O. B. Colquitt of Texas headed the annual turkey trot parade here yesterday, participated in by 5,000 live turkeys, which stalked through the streets in droves of a few hundred each, behind trained leaders.

One giant bronze turkey gobbler drew a baby carriage with a small child passenger, never seeming to mind the load. Allegorical and industrial floats also appeared in the parade.

The turkey trot is an annual celebration here.

Women Will Marry For Love
When Economically
Independent

By Miss ESTHER DRESDEN, President of Chicago Young Women's Suffrage Alliance

MANY of our women in the wealthy middle classes live in a state of SEX PARASITISM, dependent on man and kept by him in luxury and comfort without doing an iota of mental or physical work. With the other classes marriage simply means MORE WORK. WHEN WOMEN BECOME ECONOMICALLY INDEPENDENT THEY WILL MARRY ONLY FOR LOVE.

Under present conditions they enter the industrial field until they can procure a life job of domestic work via a husband.

Today, NO MATTER WHAT WORK WOMEN DO BEFORE THEIR MARRIAGE—whether they are trained nurses, stenographers or other skilled workers—upon marriage they are ALL REDUCED TO THE LOW LEVEL OF KITCHEN DRUDGES. HAPHAZARD METHODS IN USE IN THE HOME TODAY are detrimental both to the family and to the individual.

AVOID RISKS

The average man who has, by thrifty habits, accumulated a few hundred or a few thousand dollars, is the last one who can afford to invest in stocks or commercial ventures, except only in his own business, where he knows the conditions, and has control over his funds.

His surplus should be invested in this time-tried savings institution, where it is protected by first mortgages on real estate and by our large reserve fund.

SUMNER-PARKER.

(Los Angeles Examiner.) Five hundred friends were bidden to the wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Parker and William Albin Sumner, which took place at Los Angeles, Calif., in the United Presbyterian church. The service, in charge of the Rev. Dr. Francis M. Larkin, was impressive and united two of the most popular young people in Los Angeles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Marion Parker of West Twenty-third street, while young Sumner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Sumner and a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Meserve.

A profusion of white chrysanthemums and greenery formed a foundation for the artistically-arranged decorations, which turned the edifice into a pretty garden scene. The bride's only attendant was her cousin, Miss Helen Parker, who assisted as maid of honor. James Deacon Taggart served as best man and the ushers asked were Harry H. Baskerville, Shirley Meserve and Frank Leoke. A special musical program was rendered by Prof. Jaroslav de Zielinski and a trio composed of Misses Marie Louise Bitter, Florence Parker Blaser and Emil Vache Parker.

A reception at the Friday Morning Clubhouse was held, following the ceremony and the same decorative scheme was employed. Arend's Orchestra, stationed behind a cluster of palms, played there. At the conclusion of a honeymoon journey, Mr. Sumner and his attractive bride will make their home here.

The Phi Sigma Chi fraternity will entertain with a dancing party at Assembly Hall, Thanksgiving night. A number of visitors from Columbus, Coshocton and Zanesville will be present, for during the afternoon the local chapter and the chapter from Columbus will play football here.

A very pretty evening party, honoring Miss Anna Weller and her fiancé, Mr. Albert Gundlach, was given by Miss Mary Keeley on Wednesday evening at her home in Fifth street. The Keeley home was charmingly arranged in the colors of pink and white and the hours were devoted to the game of euchre, the souvenirs for which were awarded to Miss Nellie Gorman and Mr. Albert Dyar. Mr.

Gundlach, very pleasantly sang several solos.

A banquet will be given this evening by the Newark Telephone company to its employees and the directors at the Sherwood Hotel. This is the first opportunity many of the employees of the company have had to meet the others, and the workers in the five exchanges, Granville, Hanover, Somerset, Glenford and Newark will be present at the banquet. HAD GREAT LUCK.

William H. Broome, secretary of the Citizens' Building and Loan association, who for several seasons has held the belt of Licking county as the champion angler and whose reputation as a casting expert has spread to adjoining counties, has added further laurels to his sporting proclivities by "knocking over" 140 cotton-tails Wednesday, assisted by a beagle hound and his trusty repeater. This is no hunting story as Mr. Broome displayed his game to admiring friends on his return and many of them enjoyed a rabbit feast today.

"CASCARETS" FOR COSTIVE BOWELS

No Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, or Foul Breath.

Get a 10-cent box of Cascarets. Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage, causing a swell belly. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, flat gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomachs, liver and bowels regulated and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—your little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

MAY NOT RELIEVE SCHOOL TREASURER FOR LOST FUNDS

(Associated Press Telegram.)

Columbus, Nov. 20.—Board of education may not relieve their treasurer of debts caused by the failure of a bank in which he deposited school funds without requiring a bond of the bank.

This is held in the report of a finding of $2,775.76 against William McConnell, treasurer of the board of education of Saline township, Jefferson county, made to the bureau of public accounting today.

The board of education after the Silver Banking company of Wells-fargo failed, decided to relieve Treasurer McConnell of the obligation of repaying the sum lost in the bank failure, and to stand the loss from the township school fund. This will not be allowed by the state bureau of accounting.

GALLAGHER AND BROOME, CHAMPION RABBIT HUNTERS

Samuel Gallagher, West Main street cafe proprietor, and William Broome, a well known moulder, claim the local championship as hunters. In two days spent in a hunters' paradise in Knox county, these two men shot 485 cotton talls. They returned to Newark Wednesday night, being delayed in returning, because of the fact that their wagon broke down. They found it necessary to send to a local auto livery for a machine to bring them back with their big load of game. In addition to the rabbits, they brought seven raccoons.

The men declare that they have never seen rabbits so plentiful. In one thicket, they sent their dogs into the briars and the rabbits ran from this brush so rapidly that they found it impossible to shoot them all and many escaped. They had no time to pick up the animals after they were shot, being kept busy reloading and shooting the new-comers.

They generously provided rabbits for many of their friends and had plenty of them left for themselves.

IN HOLIDAY SPIRIT

BY BARBARA BOYD

Appreciating The Cook On Thanksgiving

There is one person who figures prominently in the national celebration, now but a few days away, who does not always receive the thanks and appreciation that are her due. And this important individual is the cook.

Few people work harder on Thanksgiving Day than the cook, and few people receive less outward recognition. Most of us appreciate and enjoy a good dinner, but few of us give a thought to the cook who has toiled to prepare it. If we are invited out to dinner, we thank the hostess. If we dine at home, we say to each other that the turkey was roasted to a turn, or the mince pie was unusually rich and well flavored, or that the salad couldn't be more delicious. But we rarely pass the word along to the kitchen. And the cook who has labored from early morn, and perhaps for several days previous, and who, maybe, is really hungry for a word of praise, never is gratified by the sound of a syllable of approval.

On this day, she is doing much more for us than she is paid to do. She is putting all her heart and enthusiasm into her work. She is actuated by a desire to give unusual pleasure. She wants every dish she prepares to be perfect. She thinks of the different tastes of the various members of the family, and plans to please each. She doesn't spare herself, but flies around, indifferent to aching muscles and the sense of exhaustion.

And then we gobble it down and congratulate ourselves upon the opportunity to partake of so good a dinner; and in an hour or so, all the cook's hard work has disappeared, and we saunter out of the dining room feeling well satisfied with ourselves and the world, and already thinking of what we shall do next. And the cook looks at the array of dishes to be washed, and the left-overs to be put away, and suddenly she realizes how tired she is, and perhaps, if no one has said a word of praise or appreciation, begins to wonder a little if it was all worth while.

But if after the dinner is over, the mistress of the house and also other members of the family and some of the guests, if this would be permissible, had gone to the kitchen and told her how good the dinner was and how much they enjoyed it, and praise such of those individual dishes as particularly appealed to them, what a difference there would be in her outlook upon the world. She would have no doubts then as to her work being worth while. She would forget how tired she was. Her heart would be light, and she would plunge into the work still waiting her with a very different feeling toward it than would be hers if no word of praise had come from the dining room.

And if the cook happens to be the mother of the family, how much more should praise be lavished upon her. So upon the holiday so near at hand, let us remember the cook; and in return for the good dinner she gives us give her the praise and appreciation she richly deserves.

Barbara Boyd.

America Beats the World

By the Right Rev. P. J. DONAHUE, Bishop of Wheeling, W. Va.

THERE IS NO PLACE IN THE WORLD THE EQUAL OF THIS FAIR LAND.

This republic has made itself more felt in COMMERCE, in INVENTIONS, in ENTERPRISE and in ADVERTISING METHODS than any country, or any THREE COUNTRIES OF EUROPE ITSELF. Americans seem to hold the field through all the gamut from beef, machinery and manufactured articles down to dentistry and mixed drinks.

Often Ill Health

Can be traced directly to wrong food and drink.

This cause, more than any other, creates personal discomfort—often disease.

Your doctor can confirm that coffee contains a drug, caffeine, which is the common cause of headache, biliousness, indigestion, nervousness, heart trouble, and a long train of aches and ills which bring misery to many who might otherwise be well and happy.

Anyone who values health enough to make an easy test can be free from coffee ills by changing to

POSTUM

This pure food-drink, made of prime wheat and the juice of southern sugar cane, is absolutely free from the coffee drug, caffeine—the cause of coffee troubles.

Pastum now comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A spoonful dissolved in a cup of hot water, with sugar and cream to taste, makes a delicious beverage instantly.

DIFFICULTIES IN RULING MEXICO

Trail of Blood Has Marked Past Administrations.

NO STABLE GOVERNMENT

Chase Clark Would Drain and Reclaim 70,000,000 Acres of Rich Land. Western Man Points Out That No Legislation Will Regulate Human Nature—Opposition to Pig Clubs.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Latin American styles do not agree with our conceptions of good government. Huerta "must be ousted," to use the president's expression, because he had Madero assassinated as a part of his game for holding the Mexican presidency. Already it has been ascertained that the revolutionists who are opposing Huerta have been standing men up against stone walls and shooting them, besides committing numerous atrocities in which many Americans have lost their lives.

In Mexico it does not make any difference whether the Latin American is in power or a revolutionist; he takes the life of the man or men who oppose him. Old Porfirio Diaz during the many years he was president of that country had many men killed because he thought they might be dangerous. He would have a man dine with him one evening and the next day, standing up in front of a file of soldiers, have him riddled with bullets.

No Stable Governments.

As long as conditions of this kind exist—and they will exist as long as there is so much ignorance among the masses of the people—no stable government can be maintained in Mexico and similar countries without the atrocious assassinations, drumhead courts martial and executions which made the Diaz regime a forty years' trail of blood and which Huerta will find necessary if he sustains himself. And what seems just as bad is that any revolutionary government, if it becomes "stable," must continue the blood terror.

70,000,000 Acres of Rich Land.

Speaker Clark is the author of a bill having for its purpose the drainage and reclamation of swamp lands of the United States. By an estimate of the department of agriculture it is shown that there are 70,000,000 acres of such lands in the United States. Naturally they are the richest possible, for the silt of ages has been flowing upon them. Most of them are built up of overflowed settlements from the very rich soils of the country. That much tillable land would add greatly to the productivity of the country and go quite a long way in the direction of solving the problem of high cost of living.

Legislation and Human Nature.

"I see they are trying to change human nature by legislation," remarked a man from the west, referring to bills for regulating the sale of bichloride of mercury. "The trouble with many people is that they want a general law to fit a few isolated cases, just as an attempt was made to pass a law compelling nine foot sheets because a man suffered with cold feet in a country hotel. There is too much of this sort of legislation, trying to correct the frailties of human nature by statute."

They Make Sacrifices.

Coming to the defense of members of congress, Jefferson Levy of New York asserts that many members make sacrifices in order to serve the people in congress. I do not know of any that make such sacrifices without equalizing compensation. No doubt, many men could make more money in business, but hundreds of men leave their businesses and take office for the "other compensations." They like the power, the pull, the influence and the social recognition which official position brings to them. The wife of a rich nobody far away becomes somebody as the wife of a congressman or an assistant secretary in Washington.

Opposes Pig Clubs.

Among the many strange letters received by Secretary Houston was one from a Pennsylvania man protesting against the organization of boys' pig clubs throughout the United States in an effort to encourage more meat production. Quoting Scripture from several books, he points out that swine are not fit to eat and that flesh of animals was not meant for human food. The document would have been accepted as simply written by a crank on the subject had not the letter head disclosed the fact that the writer was a dealer in dairy products and vegetables.

Two Defense Secretaries.

While peace talk fills the air and the Democratic party has long opposed battleships and an increase of the army, it is observed that the two secretaries charged with national defense are insistent upon the policy of preparation. Secretary Garrison never loses an opportunity to talk about a good army and point out that an army well drilled and equipped makes for peace. Secretary Daniels, while willing to acquiesce in a "naval holiday," insists that as long as other nations maintain and continue building navies the United States should have more battleships.

Some fellows say "Here's looking at you" until they can't see straight.

THERMOMETER IS HOVERING 'ROUND SEVENTY MARK

Depressing atmosphere, with temperature as high as 70 at 2 o'clock Wednesday, and almost as warm Thursday, has marked what many believe is real Indian summer. Threatening and continued cloudiness for the past two days failed to bring rainfall, except a few scattering drops of mist about 7:30 Wednesday night. The forecast for this section Thursday predicted fair weather Friday, with a slight drop in temperature and light westerly winds. At 9 o'clock Thursday morning the thermometer at Central fire station showed 62 degrees, a slight rise from the earlier morning readings. Total absence of breeze caused the atmospheric pressure to be very noticeable. Persons who look forward regularly to a white Thanksgiving day were not greatly perturbed, for the weather man has demonstrated his ability as a quick change artist, and there may yet be heavy snowfall before another week passes.

WOMEN MAY GET JOBS AS CLERKS OF ELECTION IN CHICAGO

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Chicago, Nov. 20.—Only the question of their ability to endure the strain of the work on election and primary days, is said to stand in the way of appointment of women as judges and clerks of elections in this city. The women may be permitted to decide the question for themselves. County Judge Owens, who under the law must determine the question finally, is said to hold that women are placed on the same basis with men at polling places under the provisions of the equal suffrage act passed by the last general assembly.

A "STAR OF HOPE" FOR OLD BROADWAY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] New York, Nov. 20.—As a forerunner of a big municipal Christmas tree which will be erected in Madison Square during the Yuletide, a "star of hope" will be lighted there tonight to twinkle regularly until Christmas. The star, composed of a large number of incandescent lamps, is a-top a plain iron shaft about 35 feet high. It was recently announced that the idea was backed by "a group of idealists" who seek to anchor idealism in New York. The mystery of their identity has not been solved.

Meritz, of Glen Ellyn, Iowa, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery cured a stubborn cough after six weeks' doctoring failed to help." Try it, as it will do the same for you. Best medicine for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Money back if it fails. Price 50c. & $1.00. All druggists, by mail, H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis. F. D. The money was given towards the $1,000,000 fund which the college is trying to raise as an endowment to be used for salaries and other operating expenses. The total amount obtained thus far is $452,000.

100-BBL. OIL WELL DRILLED. McArthur, Nov. 20.—The Union Furnace Oil Company drilled a 100-barrel well on the Woodard farm, about two miles east of Starr, Rock county, yesterday. The Standard Oil Company has drilled a good-paying well on the John Radcliffe farm in Knox township, Vinton county.

READY FOR FUNERAL OF THOMPSON WHEN HE RETURNS HOME

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 20.—While relatives and friends surrounded a coffin in which lay the body of a young man identified as John Thompson, a victim of the recent storm on the great lakes, the real John Thompson rapped at the door and was admitted to the house. His mother collapsed and was made seriously ill. Young Thompson's father did not know on what boat his son was employed and when he heard of the finding of the body of a John Thompson, fireman on the lost steamer Caruthers, he went to Ketchikan and identified it as that of his son. Preparations were being made for the funeral when the young man suddenly returned very much alive. He explained he had been in Montreal during the great storm and had just heard of his reported death. Before going to his home, Thompson stopped at a hotel conducted by James Duffy. Duffy, who had been at the Thompson home and seen the body there, fell in a faint thinking he had seen a ghost.

TURKEYS CAUSE OF SCRAP; PRICE UP

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] New Wilmington, Pa., Nov. 20.—A unique explanation for the high cost of Thanksgiving turkeys was given last night by J. P. Brest, a turkey farmer. He states that he has no turkeys to market and that few farmers in the vicinity are raising any. Turkeys, he said, are hard to raise, often being setting mixed up with flocks of a neighbor causing hard feeling. Rather than have trouble with neighbors, I simply quit raising turkeys and most of the farmers in this section are doing the same.

HUNTERS FIND SKELETON ALONG BANKS OF RIVER

Coshocton, Nov. 20.—Two hunters in digging for groundhogs along the banks of the White Woman river, northwest of Coshocton, uncovered the bones of a human skeleton. The skull was fractured, and the position of the bones indicated murder. The body had been buried for probably 20 years. The legs had been doubled under the bones of the thorax. Murder is suspected, and although County Prosecuting Attorney George D. Klein is investigating the results are doubtful.

MILCH COW MAKES NEW WORLD RECORD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 20.—College Bravura III, a nine year old brown Swiss cow, owned by the Michigan Agricultural college, has established a new world's record for milk production by animals of her breed. In the year ended yesterday, she yielded 19,346.6 pounds of milk which tested 4.102 per cent. and made 1,000.5 pounds of butter.

If you are a husband with a charming wife who is, without a thought, spending your money faster than you can earn it; if you are a wife with a husband whose efforts to induce you to economize simply bore you; if you are a young man in love with the best girl in the world; if you are the young woman with whom he is in love; if you are a cynical old bachelor; if you are just a plain, ordinary citizen who likes a good substantial play, well acted—if you are any of these you will do well to go to the Auditorium Friday, November 21 and see "The Spendthrift." Mr. Porter Emerson Browne, its author, calls it "the vital drama of today," and judging by the size of the audiences which attended its every performance, of its six months' run at the Hudson Theatre, New York, New Yorkers are interested in at least one of the "vital" problems of the present, which has been "vital" in times past and will be "vital" in time to come—unless there is a vital change in every day human nature.

"The Spendthrift" is the frivolous and utterly selfish wife of a hard-working business man, whose thoughtless extravagance drives him into bankruptcy and thus brings about the one thing needed to awaken her better nature and to transform her into a true wife and helpmate. Seats now selling.

"Fine Feathers."

"Fine feathers make fine birds" remarks one of the characters in H. H. Frazee's latest production which comes to the Auditorium, Saturday matinee and night, November 22, "and the idea keeps 3,000,000 dressmakers at work." And it is also the tragedy of many a home. The latter phase of the matter is the foundation of "Fine Feathers," the drama which aroused the theatre-goers of New York and Chicago where this very remarkable play was seen during all of last season and was voted the most pronounced success of all the big plays produced for many years.

Under Mr. Frazee's management the play was produced on August 12, tempted in the line of dramatic productions. Sale of seats starts Friday morning.

Helen Gardner at Auditorium.

The Helen Gardner players in "A Princess of Bagdad" proved to be a good drawing card at the Auditorium both yesterday afternoon and night and it is safe to say that everyone who witnessed this fine display of motion photography said that it was a fine show. The photography is clear and distinct and the acting of the big company superb and the scenic display and costuming very fine. "A Princess of Bagdad" is a filmization of the Arabian Nights, a story that all are familiar with. There is mirth, excitement and suspense in this picture and it is well worth a visit to see its wonders. The engagement closes with the exhibition tonight.

"Red Canary" at Hartman.

A new musical comedy will be shown at the Hartman tonight, when "The Red Canary" opens a half week's engagement there. The cast, which includes many clever people, is headed by Lina Abarbanel, who has never visited Columbus, but who is well known there by

Three years ago tonight, Nov. 20, 1910, a shot was fired that was heard all over Mexico. It was the signal for the raising of the curtain on a tragedy that has startled and horrified the civilized world. Ever since that night Mexico has been the stage on which has been enacted a continuous performance of revolutions, with only now and then a brief respite for a shift of scenery and a change of cast. One actor after another has held the limelight, strutting the boards for a brief period of glory, and then vanished from the scene. In this gigantic spectacle there has been no element of comedy, such as is popularly supposed to attach to Latin-American revolutions. It has all been grim, deadly, ferocious. It has been war to the sword, and the sword to the hilt, with no quarters asked or given.

When the curtain went up, on that night three years ago, the stage setting showed the house of Aquila Serdan, in the city of Puebla, capital of the state of the same name, not far from the capital of the republic. Aquiles Serdan had plotted revolution, just as thousands of others all over Mexico had plotted revolution. He was a patriot, and he loved liberty more than life. He had seen Mexico—that "prosperous and civilized" Mexico of which we read so much in the press at that period—become the prey of a small group of men, cruel and unscrupulous. Porfirio Diaz of the strong will and the iron hand, was a despot, but a despot who still had some conception of the meaning of the words justice and liberty. But Diaz was growing old. The iron hand could no longer maintain its grip, the strong will was faltering. Cunning men took advantage of the opportunity, and, preying on the weakness of age, divided Mexico among themselves. In Mexico, a man's home was no longer his castle. No woman was safe from violation, if she caught the fickle fancy of one in authority. The plunderbund held vast tracts of the most fertile land of the republic, and the common people became their serfs. The prisons were filled to overflowing with men whose only crime was devotion to liberty.

So Aquiles Serdan, like many another, plotted against the government. The authorities, through one of their multitude of spies, learned of Serdan's defection, and the soldiers and police swooped down upon the house of the rebel. Serdan and his brother-in-law, Serdan's wife, Maria, and her three sisters, were within. The rebels realized that they were marked for death, and determined to die fighting. Several of the officers of the law fell dead, and others were wounded, in the attack, before Serdan and his male companion were slain. Maria Serdan and her sisters then seized rifles and revolvers, and continued the fight. Over the corpses of husband and brother they poured volley after volley into the attacking party. At length the door was battered down, and the first feminine revolutionists of Mexico were overpowered by force of numbers. They set an example that was followed by thousands of their liberty-loving sisters in the subsequent revolutions.

The affair at Puebla was called a "riot" by the government, and attracted little or no attention outside of Mexico. In that country it was a clarion call to arms, and soon armed bodies of rebels were marching over the land. For a time the outside world, ignorant of the depth and breadth of the uprising, confidently believed that the iron hand of Diaz would clutch the rebels and crush them. History had a different tale to tell. Soon it was "Exit, Diaz," and Madero strode upon the stage, while the orchestra played and the audience shrieked approval. But soon the populace grew sullen and silent. A shot rang out, the curtain fell, and rose again to show Huerta, smiling, triumphant, standing in the place where Madero had been.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

Newark Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this Newark citizen's example.

Mrs. Charles Walton, 74 S. Second St., Newark, Ohio, says: "I can vouch for the correctness of the statement given by one of my family some years ago, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly are a wonderful kidney medicine."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy, get Doan's Kidney Pills the same that Mrs. Walton had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Scene From the Biggest American Play Ever Written "The Red Canary." Auditorium Theatre, Matinee and Night, Saturday, November 22.

1912, in his Cort Theatre, Chicago, where it remained until the Xmas holidays. Then it was presented in New York at the Astor Theatre and remained there the balance of the season. It comes here direct from its metropolitan triumphs and bids fair to remain the most viable and most talked of play of the decade. Seats now selling for both performances.

Return of "Within the Law."

Lovers of good plays and fine acting are certain to welcome the announcement that "Within the Law," Bayard Veiller's absorbing melodrama of modern American life, which is the current dramatic sensation in New York and Chicago and scored so heavily here before will play a return engagement here on Monday, November 24, at the Auditorium, under the managerial sponsorship of the American Play Company, with the same cast and production as seen before.

Forsaking the conventional paths pursued by playwrights, Mr. Veiller has, in "Within the Law," devised a virtue and exciting drama of a certain phase of contemporary life in the larger cities that appeals with equal force to every class of theatergoer. The story is that of a young girl who is unjustly convicted and sent to prison for theft, who tries to live honestly when released, but is hounded by the police until she loses her position and who then turns on them and matches her wits against their brutality, keeping "within the law" and employing the intricacies and false standards and technicalities of the law to shield her from arrest. She develops ingenuity, daring, and makes the man who sent her to prison pay for her four years of indignity for him and her three years in a felon's cell, almost breaking a heart through his son and heir.

For "Within the Law" the American Play company has engaged an adequate cast of individual and collective excellence while the extensive scenic investment required, for the mounting of the play is on a scale of lavishment not usually attempted in the line of dramatic productions. Sale of seats starts Friday morning.

Helen Gardner at Auditorium.

The Helen Gardner players in "A Princess of Bagdad" proved to be a good drawing card at the Auditorium both yesterday afternoon and night and it is safe to say that everyone who witnessed this fine display of motion photography said that it was a fine show.

The photography is clear and distinct and the acting of the big company superb and the scenic display and costuming very fine.

"A Princess of Bagdad" is a filmization of the Arabian Nights, a story that all are familiar with. There is mirth, excitement and suspense in this picture and it is well worth a visit to see its wonders.

The engagement closes with the exhibition tonight.

"Red Canary" at Hartman.

A new musical comedy will be shown at the Hartman tonight, when "The Red Canary" opens a half week's engagement there. The cast, which includes many clever people, is headed by Lina Abarbanel, who has never visited Columbus, but who is well known there by reputation. The "Red Canary" came out of the West and has played only a few cities as yet. Much credit has been paid to the chorus, it is in order to secure shining ability.

MRS. EMILY HALBROOKS DIES UNEXPECTEDLY AT CITY HOSPITAL

Mrs. Emily B. Halbrooks, aged 55 years, wife of Paul M. Halbrooks, well known local florist, died unexpectedly about noon Thursday at the City Hospital, where she was taken Thursday morning for an operation. She never rallied from the effects of the operation and passed peacefully away.

The announcement of her death came as a severe shock to her many friends in the city, though she was known to have been seriously ill for some time. She underwent an operation about a month ago, but her ailment was of such a nature that medical or surgical science could do nothing except prolong her life for a time.

Mrs. Halbrooks was born in New Albany, Ind., March 17, 1878. She spent most of her life, however, at Evansville, the home of her mother. She has lived in Newark for the past two years or more, having come here from Columbus, where Mr. Halbrooks was in business.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Halbrooks is survived by two children, Mrs. Joseph Gould and Cooper G. Halbrooks, both of whom reside at home. She also leaves her mother, Mrs. John B. Banks, of Evansville, and two brothers and two sisters. Her father died about ten days ago.

In Mrs. Halbrooks' death the family loses a loving wife and mother, and the community a noble woman. In her brief residence here she made a host of friends, who join in sympathy with the husband and children.

Announcement of the funeral services will be made later.

debilitated and impoverished it should submit to the dangers from abroad and without restriction.

The house endeavored to prevent every effort of the government aggressively invading not only the province of the judicial power but that of the executive, in order to co-operate in the infamous purposes of the above-mentioned Rebels. Having come to this extreme, the government under my direction had to face this painful dilemma, the decision of which could not be held any further—to consent in the preservation of the house of representatives as an assembly of demagogues so that it would end by strangling the other two powers, dragging the country to the chaos of a bloody anarchy in which our nationality would briefly and inevitably have perished, or in taking a legitimate reaction of defense and public health, waiving during a short period of time the so-called national representation, and appealing to the people to come before the polls, in order that it should then and there express its ultimate and sovereign desire, and it being impossible to hesitate before such a situation, the executive adopted the extreme measure, dissolving congress, employing for this purpose just the necessary amount of energy to face so delicate a condition and convened the people to new elections wherefrom your investiture, messrs. representatives, proceeds.

"Congress having been dissolved, and in absence of this important organ of the government from that date until the assembling of the new chambers, it became necessary to decree extraordinary powers. Under similar circumstances the great Benito Juarez governed during long periods of time under the regime of extraordinary powers. Therefore, it does not seem excessive that my government may have resorted to them in view of the lack of the legislative power, but the national representation will not fail to observe how moderate has been the action of the executive in not decreeing nor exercising them except with reference to three branches of the administration, Hacienda, Gobernacion and war; that is to say, in these branches in which its action was absolutely indispensable."

HARVARD IS THE FAVORITE FOR BIG GAME

(Associated Press Telegram)

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 26.—The vanguard of the spectator army for the Harvard and Yale championship football match in the stadium on Saturday reached here today. The main body will arrive tomorrow afternoon and Saturday morning.

Already the demands for accommodations exceed the capacity of the hotels and restaurants about Boston. Seats for the general public are in great demand and in less supply than ever before. The Harvard management states that the number of admissions from undergraduates and alumni is about ten per cent. more than two years ago.

Priests for tickets are far ahead of previous years and the few priests who have found their way into the stands are offered at $10 a pair, the latter price for seats inside the 25-yard line.

Harvard continued the favorite in the betting but the early odds of 10 to 1 narrowed today to 10 to 8 and 10 to 5.

MAYOR HUNT WILL NOT MAKE REPLY

(Associated Press Telegram)

Cincinnati, Nov. 26.—When asked today if he had any comment to make on the veiled threats from state officials at Columbus, if he persisted in his attitude of not enforcing the liquor licensing law, Mayor Hunt said he did not contemplate making any reply or comment. He said he had not made up his mind when he would go to Columbus to see the governor about the license question or whether he would go at all.

STREET CAR ROBBERS KILL A PASSENGER

(Associated Press Telegram)

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 26.—Several men are today under arrest, one of whom Chief of Police Malone declares is one of the two robbers who last night held up a street car and killed Fred Wise, a passenger. Search for the other highwayman whom Wm. Latta, motorist, says he shot, was continued.

The robbers boarded the car as it approached a lonely spot west of the city limits. Fred Harrison, the conductor, was held backed into the car from the rear vestibule by the masked men when the motorist began shooting.

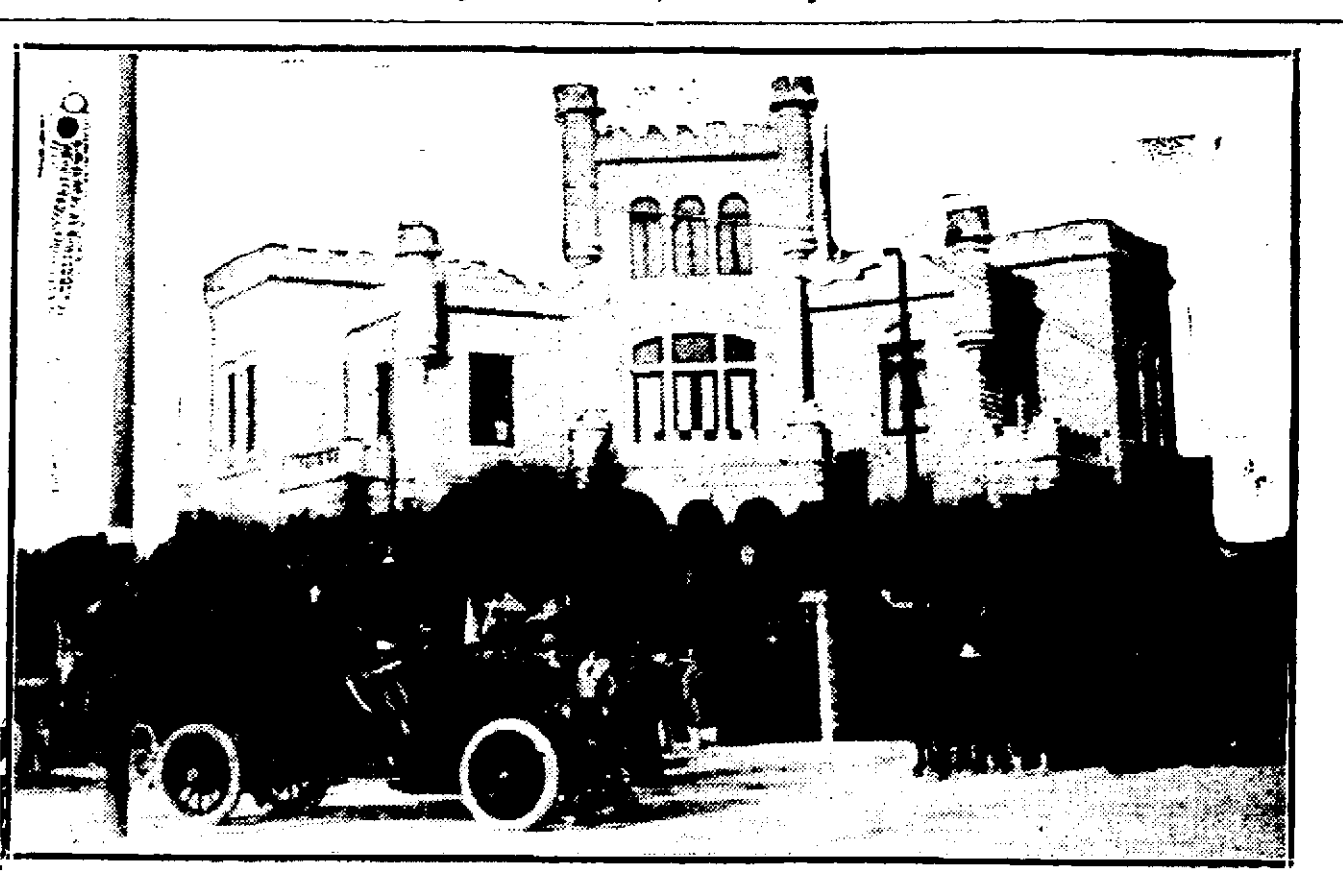

The men leaped off the car and fired several shots. Wise was shot through the head as he rose from the floor of the car where he had thrown himself when the highwaymen made their first appearance.

IN SERVICE OF GOVERNMENT FOR MANY YEARS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Nov. 26.—With the reputation of being longer in the government service than any other man in Washington, Archie Lewis, in charge of the robing room of the justices of the supreme court, died here today. He had been on the government payroll sixty-four years and contended he had served two-thirds of all the men who ever sat on the bench of the Supreme court. He came to the court in Chief Justice Taney's time.

American Embassy in Mexico, Probably to Be Deserted Soon.

When Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires in Mexico City, since Henry L. Wilson, the ambassador, was brought back by President Wilson to resign, leaves the American embassy, the magnificent home of the American representative there will be deserted. The situation in Mexico City is rapidly coming to the point, according to the despatches of the last few days, when the American representative will be directed by President Wilson to close the embassy and return to the United States.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy is ready to move at a moment's notice. He will make his way to Vera Cruz and there go aboard one of the several American battleships in the harbor, if he receives the order to quit the Mexican capital. This move it is believed will mark the beginning of an anti-American demonstration which may result in the destruction of the embassy.
